

Meet the producers

In Burgundy, there's a proud tradition of children following in the footsteps of parents and grandparents. But at Domaine de la Soufrandière in the Mâconnais, the Bret brothers decided there was a better way to run the family business

“Biodynamics increases the plant’s capacity to fight back. You don’t change the plant; you make it stronger”

“You can make great wine without sulphites. It’ll work – if the soil is alive and the grapes are balanced to support it”
