

Caroline on 2021 vs 2022:

From the 2021 vintage, there's not a lot of volume, but fortunately, 2022 brought us much more. The 2022s were harder to ferment as the weather was hot at the end of the year – unlike the 2021s which were, by comparison, very easy with more classic levels of maturity and acidity. All the 2021s are now bottled – the long élevage cuvées were done just in the last 2 weeks. Treccasses cork for all.”

The wines...

I mainly came to taste their Beaujolais – but their whites stole the show on this day – a whole bunch of great 2021s...

Burgundy Report, Bill Nanson
6 Février 2023

<https://www.burgundy-report.com/burgundy-report-extra/02-2023/la-soufrandiere-2021-2/>