

Jean-Philippe on 2023:

“Who can’t be happy with this year? Some small exception but yes! A year that started with a lot of water and worry of maladies – almost tropical in many mornings – a lot of dew – the hills were much cleaner than the base of the hills. We didn’t have hot weather until the 14th August – this was a first wave of heat. Flowering was a quite normal timing so we didn’t expect to be harvesting the 4 September.”

Jean-Philippe on 2022:

More consistently hot – almost interminable – early flowering too. We had no hail, luckily, but a lot of rain in June – and that saved us as there was almost no more rain afterwards before harvesting. We started harvesting 26 August – 6-7 September finishing – we have quite geographically diverse vines so it wasn’t a particularly long harvest for us. We will taste only bottled wines – but there are a bunch not yet done – those with longer elevage.”*

The wines...

Always outstanding wines from here – as often as not, their contract wines as good as those from the domaine!

Burgundy Report, Bill Nanson
31 Décembre 2023